Scrimmage against Kansas formations, especially the "spread" play will feature today's Tiger practice. Tomorrow the common people will be admitted to the sacred confines of Rollins Field for a final glimpse of the team before the Old Gold and Black warriors leave for Kansas Wednesday afternoon. The "spread" play which baffled the Cornhuskers a week ago consists of stationing the exponents of Javahawk football every place but in the grandstand. The play was formerly a Yale "slicer" and was brought to the Wild West by Coach Olcott. Its special value is for use against a slow team or a team that has never seen it before.

After watching "Don" Seibie's University "preps" walk over the Moberly High School team on Rollins Field yesterday afternoon, Schulte put his men through a hard scrimmage with the "regular" freshman team. The freshmen lined up against the varsity using the Kansas formations. They were given the ball on the ten-yard line and given about twelve downs to make it. At times they would make two or three yards on the Kansas shift formation, but not gaining consistently, losing ground on most of their attempts. The forward pass was more effective on this formation with Gardner on the receiving end.

Shift Is Effective
Against Green Men.

The Kansas shift play is very effective in working against a green team but is not so good against a team "that is on its toes," because the defensive players can see exactly where the play is going. In the Kansas shift play, the linemen shift out about four yards from the center, the end shifting over to the side leaving two linemen on one side of the center and four on the other. Each halfback lines up about a yard back of the linemen on each side. The other two backs stand four yards directly behind the center. The ball can be passed to any of the men; using the side pass to send the ball to the halfbacks. Line bucks, end runs and forward passes are used on this formation.

Most of the regulars were in the scrimmage yesterday with the exception of Giltner, Bass and Wilder. Giltner's broken finger is healing rapidly and he will have it out of the cast before the Kansas game. Wilder's nose is improving and he will be in good shape for the Kansas fray. Bass, another end, is again afflicted with a number of boils. He now has an even dozen on his neck.

Widener, Recruit,
Injured Temporarily.

John Hudson, a recruit of two weeks, collided with Ewing the 200-pound freshman fullback when Ewing was carrying the ball on a line buck. Hudson had to be carried off the field to the gymnasium. Ewing also retired because of the contact of his knee with Hudson's head. Hudson is all right for work today.

The Tigers will leave Columbia at 12:45 o'clock Wednesday and will have a special diner and coach. They will eat two meals on the train going to Kansas City.

The Tigers Will Attend
To Taking the Victory.

"Welcome Missouri to everything but victory," is the slogan which has been adopted at Lawrence, Kansas. Plans have been made for a fitting celebration of the first K. U. Thanksgiving Day football game to be played in Lawrence.

The Jayhawk students have adopted the homecoming parade idea and on the morning of the game a monster pageant will start from Mount Oread. All the sororities and fraternities are making arrangements to entertain alumni and Missourians.

Brewer Saves Tickets
For Last Minute Decisions.

C. L. Brewer, director of athletics, has between 75 and 100 tickets for the Missouri-Kansas game which he is saving for students of the University and citizens of Columbia who decide at the last minute to attend the game. The seats are fairly good ones in the Missouri section of the bleachers and they will be held until late Wednesday afternoon when the first excursion train leaves for Kansas City.

"These are the best seats left," said Mr. Brewer, this morning. "The few remaining seats on sale in Kansas City and Lawrence are all behind the goal lines. There are no more side line seats except those that I have tickets for."

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 24.—The monster Yale bowl, which seats more than 60,000 persons is not expected to care for all those who are fighting today to get the precious tickets for the annual Yale-Harvard clash. Temporary seats have been added to the great bowl and, even with these, it is expected that hundreds will be turned from the gates.

It will be the thirty-seventh clash between the two big eastern colleges and an element of uncertainty, more pronounced than in many years, hangs over the outcome. Harvard's supporters are claiming an edge through the defeat of Princeton while

Yale was losing to Brown, but the whole football world has come to view the Yale team, under the coaching methods of Tad Jones with considerable respect.

It has been four years since the banner of victory was flung from the New Haven flagstaff after a game with Harvard and in those years Yale has scored only five points. Previous to that time Yale had a virtual corner on scoring in the tilts with her age-old enemy, 1912 was the last Yale year when the Blue cohorts smothered the Crimson 20 to 0.

Graduates have left Harvard without the brilliant Brickley and Mahan, but the work of Casey and Horween in the backfield, with a forward line fully up the Houghton standard has made Harvard a favorite.

Yale has come fast under the tutelage of Tad Jones and will present a formidable front. Some trouble has been found in a few spots, but as a whole, the Blue team looks better than any Eli squad in several years.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—When the Army and Navy meet tomorrow at the Polo Grounds here it will be the twenty-first football contest between the two branches of Uncle Sam's service schools. Of the twenty contests already decided the Army holds the edge by one victory, having captured ten contests, the Navy nine, and one has been a tie.

With such men as Oliphant, Gehardt, Vidal and McEwan making up the strongest part of this year's team the Army is being generally favored to win. And, in addition to this, the West Pointers put a victory over on Washington and Lee, a team which had little trouble in taking a fall out of the Middles.

The Army-Navy game, aside from its importance in the football world, takes rank as one of the most vivid color displays, and the most "peppy" affair of all the eastern conflicts, not even excepting the annual clash between Yale and Harvard. The Polo
